VIRTUAL TOUR OF PA IMPRESSIONISTS SHOW AT SUZANNE H. ARNOLD ART GALLERY

Has “go to the art gallery” been on your to-do list for too long? Visit <http://www.lvc.edu/alumni/tracker.aspx?url=http://www.lvc.edu/gallery/index.aspx?bhiw=1130> to see what you have been missing and plan on coming in person. Earth, River, and Light: Masterworks of Pennsylvania Impressionism, a collection of paintings that represents the first truly national works of artistic expression in the United States, will be on display until March 4 at the Suzanne H. Arnold Art Gallery at Lebanon Valley College. The exhibition is open to the public at no charge.

The exhibition includes more than 30 works by a diverse array of artists who became known collectively as the Pennsylvania Impressionists. Their work was celebrated for its freedom from European influence and was fueled by a passion to capture on canvas the dynamic effects of light and atmosphere on the environment.

The virtual tour was created by George Reitbauer, an Annville-Cleona High School Art Teacher and a member of the Suzanne H. Arnold Art Gallery Council. Thank you George!
